Van Gogh Vodka is produced by the Royal Dirkzwager Distilleries (which received a Royal Appointment from Queen Beatrix in 2005) at the Cooymans Distillery in Tilburg, The Netherlands. Here, second-generation Master Distiller Tim Vos handcrafts the vodka through a proprietary double-infusion method, using only the finest ingredients and premium grain alcohol to create Van Gogh's signature bold flavors and smooth taste.

TASTING NOTES FROM VAN GOGH MASTER DISTILLER, TIM VOS

This is a sophisticated blend that has lovely subtle but pure flavors that come together gracefully. The botanicals include coriander and licorice from the Middle East, angelica and juniper berries from the Netherlands, grains of paradise from West Africa, almonds from Spain, lemons from the United States, cassia bark from India, orris from southern Europe and cubeb berries from Indonesia. On the nose, it has a noticeable aroma of citrus tempered by a suggestion of licorice. In the mouth, the cassia bark and licorice mingle together brilliantly for a wonderful taste experience. Our gin finishes very smooth with nuances of lemon and almond.
